

CATALOG

View email in your browser

Share this email with a friend

Have a question? Find your answer on History Hub!

We invite you to explore History Hub, our pioneering crowdsourced history and genealogy research community.

Free and open to anyone, you can ask questions and get answers from multiple sources including National Archives staff, other archives, libraries, museums, and a community of genealogists, history enthusiasts, and citizen experts.

Make History Hub your first stop! You can ask—or answer—questions on History Hub, or see if your question has already been answered.

Popular Topics and Questions

How many women voted in the 1920 Presidential Election?

This question is Assumed Answered.

If the Presidential Election of 1920 was the first following the ratification of the 19th Amendment, how many women voted in it?

16589 Views Tags: 19th amendment

History Hub offers resources like discussion boards, blogs, and community spaces to bring together experts and researchers interested in American history, whether it's wide-ranging or more personal, like about your own military records or family history. Think of it as a one-stop shop for crowdsourcing information related to your research subject.

Are you just getting started in your research? Have you reached a stumbling block? We can help.

ASK FOR RESEARCHER HELP

What is your question about?

Ask

RECENT CONTENT

- Seeking employment history of parents 3 hours ago by David Matthews
- Seeking Student Visa Applications 6 hours ago by Calvin Wylie
- Seeking Agricultural schedules for Mississippi 6 hours ago by Evelyn Jenkins
- Where are original census pages for 1930 retail census? 6 hours ago by arfrancis
- Seeking trial testimony regarding the General Slocum disaster 1 day ago by Saari Miller
- Looking for military records of Samuel M Smith 1 day ago by Mona Smith
- Seeking interview of friend 2 days ago by Wynne Johnson
- Seeking court records for William McNeil in Kentucky 2 days ago by Sallia Bandy
- Seeking more information on 19th century lotteries, sweepstakes, etc 2 days ago by Andrew Midkiff
- How to find probation records for Pennsylvania 2 days ago by Wendy Callis

FEATURED CONTENT

- LibGuides at the Library of Congress
- Records For Veterans- Gathering Evidence for Claims & Benefits
- WWII Military Unit Records at the National Archives
- You Want to Find Out About an Indian Ancestor
- Researching Civil War Draft Records in NARA's Regional Archives
- Immigration and Naturalization Records: Where are they?
- #ResearcherProTip- Top 5 Mistakes Researchers Make in the Research Room

Interested in what kinds of questions are asked on History Hub? Here are some of our most viewed questions:

- How many women voted in the 1920 Presidential election?
- Is there a list of purple heart winners from WWII?
- Where would I look for a military award citation?
- How do you request a copy of your SF50?
- "Sundown Towns" Cullman and Marshall Counties?

- Where can I find the names of slaves on North Carolina plantations?
- Seeking marriage/birth/divorce certificates to help solve questions

Communities

You can also browse topical spaces within History Hub, like those for Military or African American history, to help hone an inquiry. Researchers, historians, and members of the public can ask and answer each others' questions related to history and genealogical research.

The screenshot shows the 'African American Records' community page. At the top, there is a header with a portrait of a man and the title 'African American Records'. Below the header is a navigation bar with tabs for Overview, Content, People, Subspaces and Projects, Reports, Actions, and About. The main content area includes a welcome message: 'We're here to answer questions you have about how to find and manage African American records. Ask a question, answer an unanswered question, or share your tips on how you research.' Below this is a 'RECENT CONTENT' section with a list of seven questions and their authors, including 'Looking for Felix Jones from Watkinsville, Georgia' by Deborah Jones and 'Seeking origins of "40 Acres and a Mule"' by Frederick Allen. To the right of the recent content is an 'ASK ABOUT AFRICAN AMERICAN RECORDS' section with a search box and an 'Ask' button. Below that is a 'FEATURED CONTENT' section with three articles: 'African American Research Portal', 'Harriet Tubman: A Woman of Courage and Vision', and 'America's Olympian: Jesse Owens'.

Here are a few examples of the communities available on History Hub:

- Military Records
- Genealogy
- African American Records
- American Indian Records
- Legislative Records
- ...And more!

Citizen Archivists, there's a group just for you! You can share tips and strategies, find new challenges, and get support for your work.

Once you've signed up, check out our poll:

What kinds of records do you like to transcribe? →

Ready to get started? Register Here for a free History Hub account.

You can also browse (and answer!) some recent History Hub questions.

More about History Hub:

- How to create an account on History Hub
- How to post a question on History Hub
- History Hub Help & Support

Have you found your answer on History Hub? Let us know! Use the “I have the same question” link beneath posts to indicate that you have the same or similar question, or reply to that question in the comments section. We also invite you to share your success with us!

Do you work for a library, archive, museum, government agency, or other historical organization? Contact us to learn how your organization can participate on History Hub!

New in the Catalog

Color Photographs of U.S. Navy Activities, 1939 - 1958: National Archives Identifier 521010

The use of color photography was in its early years when World War II began. The development of Kodachrome transparency film in the mid-1930s brought about greater interest because of its use in the new 35mm "candid" cameras then being developed.

PV-1 is Given Final Checkup at Vega Aircraft Corporation Plant in Burbank, California. National Archives Identifier 176217239

The U.S. Government, long committed to black and white film and equipment for 4"x5" and larger formats, only slowly began to appreciate the usefulness of color emulsions. As the military and civilian war efforts in the United States and overseas expanded, greater use was made of color materials in presenting these activities in a lifelike way. The color photographs in this series are the U.S. Navy's official color photography file chronicling the Navy's burgeoning roles and responsibilities during the war, illustrating all aspects of the navy's activities.

Woman Working on Inside of SNV Fuselage at Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Plant in Downey, California, 7/1943. National Archives Identifier 176217199

Filed in this series are many views of Navy ships, including battleships, cruisers, and aircraft carriers (both standard identification views and closeup scenes of activities on the deck); aircraft used by the Navy, in the air and on board carriers; activities of Naval personnel on board ship; award ceremonies and surrenders of enemy forces; training activities; coverage of the major invasions of the war, including Anzio, Sicily, Normandy, Iwo Jima, and Saipan; and major U.S. Navy personalities, including Adms. William Halsey, Ernest King, and Aubrey Fitch. There is some coverage of Korean War activities also.

COVID-19 Update

The National Archives is committed to the health and safety of our visitors and staff. We are closely monitoring the situation regarding COVID-19, and we are working with public health officials and our counterpart agencies to monitor and respond to the evolving conditions and following CDC guidelines.

For more information, visit <https://www.archives.gov/coronavirus>

Questions or comments? Email us at catalog@nara.gov.

Privacy policy

Subscribe or Unsubscribe

Powered by Mailchimp