

NATIONAL ARCHIVES CATALOG

How well do you Know Your Records?

Have you ever wanted to learn more about the records held by the National Archives? Did you know that we offer a wide variety of lectures each month, led by National Archives staff and expert researchers?

With the “Know Your Records” lecture series, you can learn more about the National Archives Catalog, how to use U.S. Federal Government records for historical and genealogical research, and dive deeper into a topic that interests you.

Recent topics include Constitutional Amendments, Voices from the Civil War, American Indian heritage resources, what's new in the National Archives Catalog, as well as favorite films from the staff in the Motion Picture Preservation Lab.

Lectures on demand. All of our lectures are streamed live and available to view on our YouTube channel. Are you in DC? Consider attending a lecture in person at the National Archives Building in Washington DC.

Photo Challenge!

We've zoomed in closely on this iconic photo. Can you identify the image from just a snippet?

Take a guess and then see if you are correct! Get the whole picture in the National Archives Catalog.

New and interesting records in the Catalog

Bureau of Indian Affairs, Pierre Agency: Decimal Correspondence, 2/14/1926-1956

Correspondence, memoranda, reports, photographs, and other records from the Superintendent of the Pierre Indian School and subordinate officials. Only photographs are available online.

Privacy_policy.

Subscribe or Unsubscribe