

Carl Lewis – 1987

Text: Carl Lewis on His Career, an Interview by Richard Brown, Houston Post

Narrator: Chasing a legend through 48 years and four gold medals. Carl Lewis wins his first gold medal in the 100 meters. The 200 meter field is formidable: teammates Jefferson and Baptiste, each capable of breaking 20 seconds, will challenge Lewis. It may become America's first sweep of the Games. A new Olympic record, a second gold for Lewis, a triple triumph for the United States.

Gold medal number three.

Lewis makes his mark on the earth in the 4 x 100 relay. Sam Graddy passes off to Ron Brown [...]